

The Robert and Barbara Lowes Scholarships in Financial Mathematics and Statistics

The Robert and Barbara Lowes Scholarships are offered to support a select number of undergraduate students in their junior or senior year of study who are declared financial mathematics and statistics majors, based on the criteria of academic achievement. Compelling financial circumstances may also be considered. In addition, Lowes scholarship recipients would play a critical role in K-12 outreach in the area of mathematics by volunteering at least two hours a week in a local school mentoring children as follows:

- ◆ Remedial tutoring: a scholarship recipient will work with 3-5 children who need extra help in math.
- ◆ Math for exceptional learners: a scholarship recipient would lead an after-school class ("Mathematics is Fun" or something similar) for bright children who need extra challenge to enhance their aptitude in mathematics.

The amount of the award would be based on the individual recipient's unique financial and academic circumstances and could range from $1,000 to $3,000 per student annually. In addition, a portion of the scholarship would be used to reimburse student recipients for expenses related to their mathematics outreach activities in the schools.
